Why use AutoDoc-ID?

An easy way to welcome global customers

We can automatically verify all documents that conform to the International Civil Aviation Organisation (ICAO) standard. A global customer acceptance tool – We can verify all documents that conform to the International Civil Aviation Organisation (ICAO) standard.

Minimises manual data entry and mistakes

Using Optimal Character Recognition technology means no more data entry! That means no more errors from typing in approx 120 characters for a passport. AutoDoc-ID captures all the information you need, and alerts you to things that are easily missed – such as expired documents.

Expert human review for extra confidence

The ability to refer checks to our Document Experts means you can now accept previously difficult documents such as international driving licenses without the need for an in house specialist team.

No specialist hardware required

Our technology can work with any image of 300dpi quality of above – this means that you can capture an image on an ordinary office scanner, or any camera of 2.5mp or above – this includes most modern Blackberrys & iPhones.

A scalable, on demand solution

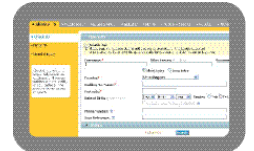

AutoDoc-ID is available as 'software as a service' – we provide you with a secure internet based system, so you always have access to check whenever you need, without your IT team having to worry about infrastructure, updates or security.

Flexible Access & Powerful Integration Options

Web access: Our web based system allows all of your team their own account to log-in and carry out checks, whilst allowing you full admin control. Ideal for companies with multiple teams and office locations.

XML API Integration: Take advantage of our API access and integrate AutoDoc-ID into your website or existing system. Ideal for incorporating document checks seamlessly into your existing processes.

iframe Integration: A faster and simpler way to integrate our checks. With our new iframe integration option you can take our web form and place it inside your website or CRM, in fact any system you like. We host all the technology, meaning you don't need to devote development time to integration, plus you can take advantage of our user interface design – the iframe comes with clear instructions and has been optimised for easy user experience; making life easier for you and your customers!
